Former Citizens Celebrate Fortieth Wedding Anniversary

The item which follows herewith concerns a popular couple now residing in Bainbridge will be of interest to their many friends in Bulloch county among whom they formerly lived.

Mr. and Mrs. George Franklin Battle were hosts Sunday afternoon to their many friends at one of the most delightful and elaborate receptions Bainbridge has seen in years, the occasion being the fortieth anniversary of their marriage.

On May 8, 1898, Miss Lulu Wise, one of the attractive young daughters of Henry William Wise and Susan Neville Wise, became the wife of George Franklin Battle, son of John Battle and Sarah Frances Holder Battle, in Ocala, Fla., at a beautiful home wedding, with the Rev. J. L. Lawson, of the Baptist church, officiating. This ceremony joined together two young people representing the prominent Wise family of Virginia and the Neville family of South Carolina, who came to Georgia before the Revolutionary War and settled in Bulloch and Screven counties, and the Battle family of Virginia, the latter family of North Carolina, and the holders of Georgia. This young couple came to Decatur county over thirty-five years ago and have since enjoyed the esteem of people in the community in which they have lived, and have been prominently identified with the better activities in civic matters, church and society. After living in Ocala, Fla., for several years, Mr. and Mrs. Battle and their two interesting children, Margaret and Frank, removed to Bainbridge, where they have since resided.

And on Sunday afternoon the fortieth anniversary of the marriage of this outstanding couple was celebrated at their lovely home on West Shotwell street in a fitting manner. The home was ablaze with the glory of the most beautiful and colorful flowers that hot houses and friendly gardeners could provide. Friends gathered in the evening to the most perfect feast that could be found. Especially beautiful was the table in the dining room with its hand embroidered linen and lace cloth, its centerpiece a handsome silver basket filled with white carnations, red gladioli and Queen Anne's lace, flanked with candlesticks holding tall, white tapers and silver coffee services at each end.

HERE'S A STAR YOU CAN REACH!

HERE, sir, is the bright particular star of the automotive year: a car to make you proud and happy—you can prove that wherever on the highway these bright May days.

In it, you can know luxury in your travels and still not overstrain your budget! Fact is, you feel like a million just sitting in this Buick!

And you know you're commanding the "tops" in power the first time you give its eager DYNAFLEX engine the gun!

At the wheel you feel the buoyant steadiness that is TORQUE-FREE SPRINGING's special gift to motoring—the firm, foot roadability of a car that's beautifully poised in all its going.

There's no "hop" on this fast one. It doesn't "gallop" or bounce or pitch.

Its soft stout coiled steel springs let the wheels follow the road—the swells, dip to the hollows—yet pass none of that lively up-and-down on to the body.

You travel level as a straightedge, thrill to turbine-smooth power that's quick as lightning—no kind of a travel-comfort that neither road nor weather mars. Yet what are the facts on costs?

This great straight-eight actually costs less than some sixes! Price almost any other car, and by the time you've added in the extra values included in Buick's figures, you've paid for the matchless performance only Buick can give you!

So don't sit idly wishing for a star! Reach up—get this one! We're ready to show you say it costs less than you think.

One Often Stumbles Accidentally Upon The Thrills of Life

Milledgeville, former capital of the state of Georgia, was holding open house in celebration of the hundredth anniversary of the formal opening of the governor's mansion.

There were many Georgians who casually have ambled along without a proper appreciation of the historical importance of this honored ancient inland city of Milledgeville. It was to bring the people of the state to a better realization of important happenings in the history of the state that the people of that community invited Georgians to come for a two-days' sojourn in their midst. During these two days—all of last Thursday and half of Friday—the historic centers were thrown open and the people were invited to come and learn.

Not always is it possible to do the thing one would wish to do, so it became necessary for this writer to defer his visit till the second day of the event. If you have already guessed that it takes so many hours to ride to Milledgeville that the period for invited visitation was coming to a close at about the exact moment of arrival, you will understand the sense of disappointment which possessed this writer and his group.

But our philosophy has developed over these many years of philosophizing that nothing is so bad as that it is 100 per cent loss. And so it transpired at Milledgeville—though the scheduled hour for closing had arrived, there were yet friends who would gladly to give us aid.

And those friends directed us through the governor's mansion—the very center of the festivities of the celebration—home of Dr. and Mrs. Guy Wells, who have been restored and made a most beautiful central spot of historical interest. Mrs. Wells called attention to the features of restoration which have recently been accomplished, and the many articles of antique furniture which contribute to the proper atmosphere of a home so important.

We hadn't lost any sensation of thrill which comes from association with important events so intimately belonging to Georgia's historic past.

And somebody had suggested that we might find further down the street a couple of blocks away other historic places still having open arms. As we strolled in the direction designated, a school girl with books in her arms came around the corner facing our group. Responding to inquiries, she volunteered to carry us to the very house asked for. Then as we walked along she readily volunteered that the home in which she lived, which we were then approaching, was a part of the pilgrimage which had already closed, but in which we should find a welcome. And with an ease and courtesy of manner which denoted her knowledge of the things about which she spoke, the little lady carried our party into the house and began to display the relics which had been the object of our quest. Then her mother joined the party, and the entire home was made accessible—classic paintings, historic firearms, old-style furniture, ancient walking canes, and hidden daggers, locally owned wearing apparel, valuable pieces of silver. And then they told us the thrilling story of how, during the siege, the Rev. Henry Ward Beecher, a Union soldier, was an occupant of this very home; how the lady of the home at that time, herself originally from Milledgeville, was acquainted with the Beecher family connection and thus attained for the home a large measure of protection; how, during the siege, the Confederate soldier boy of the home unexpectedly crept back home and was himself secured for a full week in the attic over which the Union soldiers stood guard. It was an interesting story told us by the mother and her daughter in what is now called the Crawford home, originally the home of John Williams and Col. Richard Orme.

And the ladies pointed out another of the nearby historic spots, "The Homestead," former home of Peter J. Williams, now occupied by his granddaughter, Mrs. David Ferguson. This venerable lady, possessing also the charm of southern aristocracy, gave a welcome which set the hearts of the group aglow. The "Homestead" is today a palace. Large rooms; wide halls; graceful stairways; lovely paintings on the walls; high-potted bedsteads; trundle beds; old rocking cradles—evidences, as one said, of a lot of happy living in the days that are past.

And that is what falls to the lot of one to see when fate is with one. Even though you arrive late, there is always hospitality if you can find it—and it can always be found among people so hospitable as those good people of Milledgeville who are proud of that which they have brought to the world in their heritage from a people

Newsy Notes From Nevils

Miss Emma L. Adams spent the week end in Savannah.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Ward announce the birth of a son on May 12th.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Sharpe, of Savannah, visited their home folks here during the week end.

The high cool winds which we have been having recently have done a good bit of damage to the tender crops and gardens.

Mr. and Mrs. Otis Denmark and Walter Byrd and Miss Eleanor Denmark, of Savannah, were guests of E. A. Denmark and family Sunday.

A great many from here went to the movies in Statesboro on Thursday, Friday and Saturday to see "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs."

Misses Sara Nelle and Irah Kinsky have returned to their home in Great View, W. Va., after a three-week visit near here and in Statesboro.

Mr. and Mrs. Ewell Denmark and little daughter, of Savannah, visited Mr. Denmark's father, E. A. Denmark, and his family during the past week.

Mrs. Jesse Smith went to Savannah Saturday to visit her brother, who was recently operated on for appendicitis at the Warren A. Candler Hospital. Mr. Smith also went.

Little Dean Eron and Winston Lacy, of Savannah, are spending some time with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Lanier. Their mother, Mrs. Deanna Lanier, has been quite sick in a Savannah hospital.

We were greatly appreciative of the nice rains which we had Friday night and Saturday. All kinds of vegetation needed the very welcome rains so badly. The gardens as well as the things in the fields were all most beyond refreshing.

A very delightful outing of the past week was when the juniors of our school entertained the seniors at Dasher's with a picnic late in the evening. The occasion was very much enjoyed by all those who were fortunate enough to be present.

Of interest to the people of this community is the following item from the Savannah Press of Friday, May 13th: "Custody of two minor children was given Mrs. Zedna Martin Davis after hearing evidence on a petition for custody brought by Delmas J. Davis."

Mrs. A. A. Ward, who has made her home at Parris Island, S. C., for the past several years, is spending some time with her sisters, Mrs. Teell Nesmith, here, and Mrs. Felix DeLoach, near here, and Mrs. J. N. Sanders, near Brooklet, also Mrs. Nathan.

Our school stage scenery has been added to and the old one retouched, which has improved the looks of the stage very much. Jack Thompson, the hand painter, who has been doing painting here for the public in general for many years, did the work and we think it is really nice now, and also very pretty.

News has just reached us of the quite serious injuries that Mrs. Willis Crosby received in an automobile wreck. One arm and one leg were broken, as well as numerous cuts and bruises, and possible internal injuries. The Crosbys made their home in our midst several years ago. Mrs. Crosby is in the Bulloch County Hospital for treatment.

Miss Grace Woodward came home from Brewton-Parker Institute, at Mt. Vernon, on Friday and spent the week end. She will not be at home for her summer vacation until about the middle of June, as she will go with the remainder of her class to

Between Us

Monday night when the new Chevrolet show opened it was quite a gala affair in our town, and assembled 500 or more folks together for an evening of fun and frolic. A glimpse of the dance floor showed us some of our younger set enjoying the music of Earl Collins' orchestra. And did you see the grammar school set do the big apple to the delight of the audience? With Julie Turner telling who to sit when, it was quite a show. Lovely Margaret Brown in blue tulle evening gown dancing with the grace of Eleanor Powell. Grace Lingo and Mrs. Marsh greeting the guests on behalf of the company their husbands own; George Johnston feeling it a good luck omen winning the 25 gallons of gas on the leg of opening his campaign for the legislature; Carolyn Waters delighting the guests with her dancing partner so much so that the other dancers stopped to watch. The fact that the dance went well into the night proves what form of entertainment our young folks want. So many of the classes of the high school are planning reunions this year and none will be more interesting or beautiful than the class of 1913 when they celebrate their 25th anniversary. It will bring schoolmates back that haven't been together in years. Hattie Powell is acting as chairman, and the class is looking for a gala affair. Then the class of 1928 is celebrating with Lillian Buis and Emma Cunningham making the plans. It's good to live again the school days. The class of 1918 often have reunions with just the fairer sex invited. This class was recently entertained by Mary Akins and Ruby Akins, and last week Sallie Smith had a luncheon for them—Attractive young Eileen Rushing riding along with Olin Boyd on one of his saddle horses. We are really getting the craze. Early mornings find our young equestrian outfit folks out on a jaunt. Last week saw Eleanor Moses and Allene Whiteside out for a ride before most of the town was awake. By the way, who were the two young couples taking advantage of these last few days of night riding around with the radio on, when suddenly the urge to dance seized them, and immediately they were out on a bridge and danced a few waltzes away? One girl attractive with red hair and the other with black, often seen double-dating. When it comes to inventions, the blue ribbon should certainly go to Frank Smith for his "fly electroscope." Who hasn't been to see this, you have missed something worth while. Once the fly touches the wire, the light comes on. What will we think of next? How would some of you wives like to borrow this some night with a single fly stays out a little to late, and give him the shock of his life (literally speaking)?—Will you see (TOWN).

FARMERS PROMPT TO RETURN LOANS

Only 5.1 Per Cent of Loans Were Shown To Be Delinquent On April 30th.

Returning from Columbia, where he attended a conference of secretaries of national farm associations of North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia and Florida, T. W. Rowe, secretary of the Bulloch County National Farm Loan Association, which serves Bulloch, Evans, Effingham, Chatham and Bryan counties, said that reports at the conference indicated that the farmers of the four states had met their obligations to the associations in a splendid manner last year notwithstanding the recession in prices of farm products.

The Federal Land Bank of Columbia, through which the national farm loan associations secure their long-term mortgage loans for their members, reported to the conference, Mr. Rowe said, that as of April 30th it had only 5.1 per cent delinquent loans, including loans with delinquent installments and delinquent extensions.

"When it is considered that the bank has over 78,000 loans in the four states," said Mr. Rowe, "you can see that this is a very small per cent of the total. It offers convincing proof that the farmers of the four states are going to meet their obligations if there is any way in the world that they can meet them."

Mr. Rowe said that during the year 1937 the bank itself and acting as agent for the Land Bank Commissioner made 2,307 loans in the four states for a total of $3,142,508. There were 547 loans made in North Carolina. See PROMPT, page 5.

GAS APPLIANCE COMPANY NOW IN NEW QUARTERS

Attention will be drawn to the advertisement of the Gas Appliance Company appearing in another column. Incidentally it will be observed that this concern is now in new quarters, having recently moved from West Main street to the present address, 44 East Main street. Since coming to Statesboro four or five months ago this concern has established a place of prominence in the business world, and now serves a wide clientele not only in Bulloch but in surrounding counties. The management of the Statesboro Gas Appliance Company invites the public to call and learn of the service which is now being offered.

RIPENING HARVEST IN POLITICAL FIELD

Only Six Days Remain for Candidates to Make Decision On Important Matter.

With the local field rapidly filling with prospective candidates, and the harvest ripening daily, almost any time can happen before the closing hour—12 o'clock noon next Wednesday—when the deadline will arrive for those who have political ambitions.

The status of the field at this moment is:
Already qualified (entry fees paid)—Mrs. Julian C. Lane and Harvey D. Brannen for state senator; H. S. Aklen for house of representatives.

Formally announced but entry fees not yet paid—Prince H. Preston Jr., George M. Johnston and Darwin B. Franklin for house of representatives. Discussed as prospective candidates—Alfred Dorman, B. Everett Lee and Dr. C. E. Stapleton for senator; H. M. Robertson, J. H. Wyatt and Horace Smith, for house of representatives.

For county offices, already formally in the race and formally qualified (fees paid)—W. B. Harrison, his former opponent, Mr. Parker has issued the following statement:

"I am a candidate for the office of comptroller general of the state of Georgia, subject to the state Democratic primary to be held on September 14th."

"I paid my entrance fee to the secretary of the state Democratic executive committee in Atlanta on yesterday."

"I am hopeful that my candidacy will meet with the approval of the people of Georgia and that I will be permitted by them to fill the office to which they elected me in 1936, and which was taken from me by unpopularity."

"I want to thank the people of Georgia for their many kindnesses to me in the past, and especially do I thank the citizens of the First congressional district for the kind treatment accorded me in years gone by. I hope my conduct in the future will be such as to merit this support and friendship of the homelands at all times."

YOUNG HODGES BETTER FOLLOWING OPERATION

Johnnie Hodges, 16-year-old son of Mrs. Keller Hodges, is improving at the Bulloch County Hospital, where he underwent an operation Monday night for appendicitis. The young man was a member of the graduating class of Ogeechee School and had planned to go with his classmates on a trip to Washington two weeks hence. His friends regret this delay, but are happy that he is improving.

AT FELLOWSHIP CHURCH

There will be preaching at Fellowship Primitive Baptist church at 11 o'clock a. m. on the fifth Sunday (next Sunday), also baptisms in the afternoon by Elder A. V. Simms, of Graymont. Elder Simms was pastor of that church for several years, and his old friends will be glad to worship with him once more.

For Comptroller General

HOMER C. PARKER

PARKER ENTERS STATE-WIDE RACE

Statesboro Man Seeks Office for which He Once Received Majority Vote.

Homer C. Parker, prominent Statesboro citizen, today again enters the field as a candidate for a state-wide office—that of comptroller general. It was this office for which he once received a majority of the popular vote, only to later lose the nomination in the state convention. Likewise, Mr. Parker is well known as having been defeated as candidate for re-election to congress while polling an overwhelming majority of the popular vote. He has held the office of assistant general, the office of congressman and later by appointment for a brief term the office of comptroller general.

The general primary he will oppose W. B. Harrison, his former opponent. Mr. Parker has issued the following statement:

"I am a candidate for the office of comptroller general of the state of Georgia, subject to the state Democratic primary to be held on September 14th."

"I paid my entrance fee to the secretary of the state Democratic executive committee in Atlanta on yesterday."

"I am hopeful that my candidacy will meet with the approval of the people of Georgia and that I will be permitted by them to fill the office to which they elected me in 1936, and which was taken from me by unpopularity."

"I want to thank the people of Georgia for their many kindnesses to me in the past, and especially do I thank the citizens of the First congressional district for the kind treatment accorded me in years gone by. I hope my conduct in the future will be such as to merit this support and friendship of the homelands at all times."

DEAL MAY ENTER CONGRESS RACE

A simple two-line story in today's issue is fraught with more meaning than is apparent in the words. The statement, signed by A. M. Deal, merely says, "I am no longer in the race for the state senate."

What makes the story replete with interest is known to many friends—Albert Deal is contemplating entering the race for congress.

Two weeks ago he threw his "hat in the ring" for the state senate. For a full week he faced in that direction. One week ago his name was mentioned as a possible candidate for congress, and today he is believed to be on the verge of entering that race. It is known that strong pressure has been brought to bear on him from many parts of the district, and that he is studying the situation with seriousness.

In the meantime the race for the state senate has veered around to a contest between two outstanding citizens of the county—Harvey D. Brannen and Mrs. Julian C. Lane, both having qualified with the county committee several days ago. This race will be watched with keen interest, both contestants having large following throughout the county.

MOORE COMES HERE REPRESENT MAYTAG

Attention will easily be attracted to the Maytag advertisement in another column of this issue, with important announcement regarding this valuable household necessity. It will be interesting, too, to learn that Frank Moore, field representative of this company, has become a citizen of Statesboro and will be found hereafter at the Ruising Hotel. Mr. Moore has been with Maytag for fourteen years as traveling representative and distributor. Miss Elizabeth Donovan is not
